

DAILY NEWS

March 4, 2011

48 Friday, March 4, 2011

DAILY NEWS NYDailyNews.com

NEW YORK TODAY

FREE & CHEAP

List your event: NewYorkToday@NYDailyNews.com with the date in the subject field. And online to: nydailynews.com/new_york_events

Enjoy more NYC with a daily look at where to go and what to do - close to home and around the city.

MANI & MARTINI. Celebrate happy hour with a manicure and martini. This two-for-one special is offered every day of the week. 6-11 p.m. $10. Beauty Bar, 231 E. 14th St. (212) 539-1389.

QUEENS CLASH. Watch Queens' finest performers play for a live audience in hopes of securing a spot at the "Battle of the Boroughs" concert in June. WQXR's Terrance McKnight hosts. 7 p.m. $15. Jerome L. Greene Performance Space, 44 Charlton St. (646) 829-4000.

SUM ENCHANTED EVENING. MIT Prof. Erik Demaine looks at the relationship between numbers and art as part of the "Math Encounters" series for the Museum of Math. The lecture includes an origami-folding session. 6 p.m. Free.

Baruch College Conference Center, 226 W. 24th St., 14th floor. (646) 312-1000.

'FRIDAY NIGHT MUSIC.' Kick off the weekend by relaxing to guitarist Alex Simon's acoustic tunes. 9 p.m. Free. Brooklyn Winery, 213 N. Eighth St., Brooklyn. (347) 763-1506.

FRENCH FASHION. Score great finds by French label Petit Bateau at a sale hosted by Gabay's Outlet. Take 50% to 60% off classic styles for men, women and kids. 9 a.m.-6 p.m. Free admission. 524 Hudson St. (212) 254-3180.

BANDING TOGETHER. Students from the Bronx Charter School for the Arts and Little Red Schoolhouse collaborate for the Bronx Arts Band performance, where kids play cool songs, such as selections from Michael Jackson's "Thriller" album. 5 p.m. Free. The Point, 940 Garrison Ave., the Bronx. (718) 542-4139.

FOWL PLAY. Learn more about the environment and its impact on birds in "The

Eric Demaine on how math & art add up

"Sweet-Voiced Bird Has Flown," featuring sketches and paintings of birds whose populations are on the decline. 9:30 a.m.-5 p.m. $8-$11. New York Hall of Science, 41-01 111th St., Queens. (718) 699-0005.

ART AND ASTORIA. Catch the premiere of the video short "An Oasis in Astoria," followed by opportunities to mingle and make art with other teens. RSVP at education@noguchi.org. 4:30-6 p.m. $5-$10. Noguchi Museum, 9-01 33rd Rd., Queens. (718) 204-7088.

PLAY DATE. Bring your kids to the Tottenville Library for an afternoon of board games and fun on the Wii. 2:30 p.m. Free. 7430 Amboy Rd., Staten Island. (718) 984-0945.

THE BARD IN BAYSIDE. Shakespeare's classic tragedy "Othello" comes to Queens in a new production directed by Lisa Yonker. 7:30 p.m. $3-$10. Queensborough Performing Arts Center, 222-05 56th Ave. (718) 631-6311.

A HAIRY SITUATION. Author Kate Hosford reads from her debut picture book, "Big Bouffant." It's about a girl who's sick of wearing the same hairstyles. 5 p.m. Free. Books of Wonder, 18 W. 18th St. (212) 989-3270. Amy He

DONNA COVENEY